

State of the Boys

Volume 74 Issue 3 // June 14, 2023

SUPER TUESDAY

The City and County levels of the Federalist and Nationalist Parties of Minnesota Boys State spent their Tuesday in convention. Endorsements for legislative office were put forward at the city level along with proposed platform planks. At the county level the delegation for the state conventions were selected along with committee assignments. State party conventions begin Wednesday morning.

Rochester spikes St. Cloud for volleyball win

By: Vincent muraski - Rochester

On Monday afternoon sand was flying as the much anticipated first volleyball game of the season occurred for Rochester vs. St. Cloud. With the lines drawn in the sand, the two teams faced off for a best of 3 sets match. The first set went to Rochester 21-12 thanks to the serving talents of Juiced-Up Jacob Orloff and the high blocks and spikes of Warrior Wyatt Erwin. The second set then also went to Rochester 21-18 with the ball getting lost in a bush a few times and some amazing dives by The Wicked Wizard Wes Meyer. It was overall a very good game with both teams showing very good sportsmanship. Tomorrow and I will have to bring you coverage of how that ends

Rock Paper Scissor for Delegation

By: Andy Yang - Mankato

As the Mankato Boys choose their delegates during the county meeting, there seems to be one issue. Who will be the alternate delegate? Obviously, the best way to choose who is the alternate is to do an easy game of rock, paper, and scissors. In the end, one person became the delegate with the other one as the alternate. They did not decide by what people call political elections, but just a simple easy game!

Eli Sun- The New Man on the Rise

By: Andy Yang - Mankato

As the Federalist Party in Kittson (which includes Mankato and Austin) progresses through the convention. One man is the uncontested leader, Leo Sun. With a convincing nomination from his peer, he willingly won and took the role of the Federalist Kittson Chair. Embracing his leadership skills, the Federalists of Kittson nominated Leo to represent them as a candidate for Governor at the state party convention. The city of Mankato and Austin wishes him luck!

Hidden Kickball Star Shocks

All!

By Joseph Rychlicki -

During the kickball game between Minneapolis and Winona yesterday, both teams were shocked to see a star player, Vincent from Minneapolis, dominate the game. Vincent displayed multiple incredible catches in the outfield and showed spectacular skill while kicking. Although they eventually lost the game, Minneapolis displayed great determination and sportsmanship. Winona's next game will be against Austin today at 4:10 pm. Stay tuned!
